DETAILED ACTION

1. This final Office action is responsive to Applicant's response filed November 7, 2005.

Claims 50-71 are pending.

2. The previous rejections under 35 U.S.C. § 101 and 112, 2nd paragraph are withdrawn in response to Applicant's persuasive arguments.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed November 7, 2005 regarding the art rejection have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that "Brown describes activity/task scheduling and is unrelated to scheduling of assignments or portions of a task as recited by these claims" (page 8 of Applicant's response). The Examiner respectfully disagrees. Each of Brown's activities/tasks comprises a listing of resources assigned to perform the respective activity/task. By assigning a listing of resources needed to be scheduled to perform each activity/task, each task may be divided into assignments (i.e., resources) and scheduled at a unit resource level. As stated in the art rejection, col. 6, line 17 through col. 7, line 50, including Tables 1-3 of Brown teach a listing of resource types with the number of units needed to complete each activity, which is equivalent to the claimed assignments. Examiner's interpretation is supported by Table 2 in Applicant's specification and its comparison to the type of information shown in Table 1 of Brown.

Applicant's arguments are non-persuasive; therefore, the art rejection is maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 50-71 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brown et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,671,361).

Brown discloses a computer-implemented method for generating a schedule for a project, the method comprising:

[Claim 50] providing tasks of the project, a task specifying one or more resources that are to be used to complete the task, at least one task specifying multiple resources, a resource having a duration (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 6-44; col. 6, line 17 through col. 7, line 50, including Tables 1-3 – Brown's activities are equivalent to the claimed tasks. Brown's resources are equivalent to the claimed resources); automatically dividing tasks into assignments, an assignment being a portion of a task that can be completed using a single resource (col. 6, line 17 through col. 7, line 50, including Tables 1-3 – Brown's listing of resource types with the number of units needed to complete each activity is equivalent to the claimed assignments. Examiner's interpretation is supported by Table 2 in Applicant's specification and its comparison to the type of information shown in Table 1 of Brown); and scheduling the tasks by, for the assignments of a task, determining a time when the resource of the assignment is available for the duration of the resource (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 6, lines 17-65); and scheduling the assignment to be performed at the determined time such that the assignments of a task are scheduled separately (col. 4, lines 24-48);

Art Unit: 3623

[Claim 51] wherein the scheduling of the tasks includes:

providing priorities for the tasks (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 24-48);

scheduling the assignments of a high priority task before scheduling the assignments of a low priority task (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 24-48);

[Claim 52] wherein the scheduling of the tasks includes:

providing priorities for the tasks (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 24-48);

setting a priority of assignments based on the priority of their tasks (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 24-48); and adjusting the priority of assignments based on availability of the resources of the assignments (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 24-48); and scheduling the assignments in adjusted priority order (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 24-48);

[Claim 53] wherein the scheduling of the tasks includes:

providing a specification of dependencies between tasks (Fig. 3; col. 3, lines 27-29, 55-67; col. 6, lines 17-33; col. 10, lines 40-44);

scheduling the assignments of independent tasks before the assignments of dependent tasks (Fig. 3; col. 3, lines 27-29, 55-67; col. 6, lines 17-33; col. 10, lines 40-44);

[Claim 54] wherein the scheduling of the tasks includes:

providing a specification of dependencies between tasks (Fig. 3; col. 3, lines 27-29; col. 6, lines 17-33; col. 10, lines 40-44); and scheduling the assignments of tasks so that the constraint of the task is satisfied (Fig. 3; col. 3, lines 27-29; col. 6, lines 17-33; col. 10, lines 40-44);

[Claim 55] wherein the scheduling of the tasks includes:

providing a time constraint of a task (Fig. 3; col. 3, lines 27-29, 56-64; col. 6, lines 17-65; col. 10, lines 40-44); and scheduling the assignments of tasks so that the time constraint of the task is satisfied (Fig. 3; col. 3, lines 27-29, 56-64; col. 6, lines 17-65; col. 10, lines 40-44);

[Claim 56] wherein the scheduling of the tasks is performed on a resource-by-resource basis (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 24-48; col. 6, lines 17-65);

[Claim 57] including scheduling the assignments of a resource in order of priority of the assignments (col. 3, lines 15-29, 56-64; col. 4, lines 24-48);

[Claim 58] wherein the scheduling of the assignments of tasks schedules assignments to satisfy start-on constraints before satisfying must-finish-by constraints (Fig. 3; col. 3, lines 27-29, 56-64; col. 6, lines 17-65; col. 10, lines 40-44).

[Claims 59-67] Claims 59-67 recite limitations already addressed by the rejection of claims 50-58 above; therefore, the same rejection applies. Brown's invention is a computerized system and therefore incorporates software to perform the recited functionality.

[Claims 68-71] Claims 68-71 recite limitations already addressed by the rejection of claims 50-58 above; therefore, the same rejection applies. Brown's invention is a computerized system and therefore incorporates hardware and software to perform the recited functionality.
